Ushvani Spa to Launch NEW Signature Rejuvenating Ritual

AUG 24, 2021 by MANCHESTER TV in BUSINESS

Ushvani Spa, one of London's best kept secrets is set to launch a Signature Rejuvenating Ritual – available from 23rd September. This unique treatment comprises a blend of all the best techniques in Asian massage and is available for Ushvani's female and male clientele.

Ushvani is incredibly discreet – with just five treatment rooms (including the stunning Asmara Suite) and some of the most exceptional service and treatments around, it's a true hidden gem located at No. 1 Cadogan Gardens (tucked behind Peter Jones in Sloane Square). Ushvani's philosophy is based on ancient Asian culture that focuses on both spiritual harmony and natural treatments. The holistic approach is taken to treat the mind, body and spirit, going beyond mere superficial pampering. The Spa boasts original Edwardian features, wood panelling and a vast wooden staircase mixed with commissioned Malaysian artworks and hand-painted batik hangings, hibiscus flowers and the aroma of ginger, nutmeg and pandan leaves.

Signature Rejuvenating Ritual, 120mins, £250 www.ushvani.com

The ritual begins with an inhalation of Ushvani's signature Balm, containing eucalyptus and camphor, designed to clear the mind. A bespoke heated herbal compress is then applied to warm the body and relieve aches and pains. The treatment goes on to incorporate relaxing strokes derived from Malay Massage, deep drainage from Balinese Massage and stretches from Thai Massage. This combination of therapies will leave guests feeling warmed through and rejuvenated. The specially prepared heated compress contains a blend of herbs, including Kaffir Lime leaves known for its uplifting and stimulating properties as well as antioxidant Lemon Grass.

Please see a thorough list of the blend's ingredients below:

Uplifting Blend:

- Gotu Kola – An adaptogen with firming and rejuvenating effects
- Galangal – A stimulant with brightening and firming effects
- Coriander Seed – Uplifting fragrance with tonic effect
- Lemon Grass – An antioxidant with uplifting tonic effect
- Kaffir Lime Leaf – Fresh uplifting and stimulating fragrance

A pioneering pair of pants have been fired up into space, in a campaign to fund research into women's reproductive health, whilst also raising awareness for sex workers after OnlyFans adult content confusion
Whilst Elon Musk may have sent a Tesla up to space, this is the first-time briefs have ever been seen floating in the atmosphere. Donated by Leolulu and commissioned by content sharing platform NSFW.app, the pants will go under the hammer in an online charity auction next week to raise money for Wellbeing of Women. Online content creators Leolulu have a history of high profile cause related campaigning, previously featuring in Pornhub's Dirtiest Porn Ever campaign, directed at cleaning up the world's beaches. Leo, who owns the lingerie, said: "Growing up I was shocked to discover how little research there was on women's health and how recently what I consider to be the most basic improvements were made. "I often wish for better solutions when it comes to a variety of challenges women face, including menstruation,
